CHRIST GREATER THAN GREAT MEN

Campaign of Religion Opened at First Presbyterian Last Night.

The initial service of the religious campaign at the First Presbyterian church, which is to continue for twenty days, was held last night. There was a fair attendance in view of the rigorous weather. Dr. Koehne, who is engaged for the series of meetings, had for his theme "The Contrast Between Christ and Great Men."

The method adopted in the treatment of the subject differed from that usually heard from the pulpit in meetings of the kind. There were no jarrings of the emotions, but rather an appeal to the reasonableness of religion as taught by Christ. An analytical style was employed by the speaker and the gulf existing between the greatest of men and Christ was clearly demarked, leading the minds of his hearers to the conclusion that Christ was not a great man.

A brief reference was made to the great World War, the speaker in this connection saying, "God's method appears to be, to take a principle, dip it in blood, and wring it out."

Dr. Koehne impresses one as a deep thinker—not given to rash statement and hurried deduction, but rather to careful analysis and presentation of the evidence. Attention is diverted from the speaker and fixed on the message. He makes an appeal to the thoughtful mind, depends on carrying conviction by massing and assembling the facts, rather than by strong assertion, dogmatic assumption or tearful protestation.

The sermon last night is one of a series of what might be called "The Fundamentals of Religion." Tonight another of these will be presented for discussion.

Dr. Koehne stated that the series was inspired by the request of a busy banker, Joseph Steffens, father of Lincoln Steffens, the noted writer. It has been given in five hundred churches and the people of Fairmont are fortunate in having at their doors the opportunity to hear in plain, simple, forceful language the studious thought of Dr. Koehne on basic Christianity.

SEN. CHAMBERLAIN STANDS BY CHARGES

Says President Does Not Know How Bad Things Are.

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—Standing firmly by his charge that America's military establishment is enmeshed in inefficiency Senator Chamberlain, of Oregon, chairman of the Military committee, replied in the Senate today to President Wilson's denunciation of his recent New York speech by repeating the statement which drew the President's fire and declaring that the President himself does not know the truth.

Senator Chamberlain declared he would show that the deaths of hundreds and thousands of men at cantonments and camps were due to the War department, and "that all epidemic could have been prevented if the War department had been effective."

"This isn't a question of personalities," he said, "this is not a question between the President and myself. It's a question of America and myself. I want to make it his whole purpose to see that America is saved."

"Take the machine guns. It's an old controversy and much may be said on both sides. The Lewis gun has been manufactured here for the British army and there are 70,000 on the battle fronts. Every British officer I have seen has expressed approval of that gun. America was prepared to produce them but with the country standing on a seething volcano the ordnance department was trying to decide even adopt a gun until May, and finally adopted it in June, 1917, I believe, and then only on paper and it still is a gun on paper."

Senator Chamberlain reviewed the testimony before the congressional committee concerning rifles and clothing, declaring the President did not know the truth. Striding into the center aisle with an attitude of defiance he shouted:

"I feel it my duty to my country and my conscience to tell the truth. I have no fear of God, man or the Devil when my conscience prompts and no man in this country can keep me from telling the truth. The only fear I have is that this discussion may have a bad effect on the country. But if the conditions exist they ought to be corrected and quickly. Great Britain found the same conditions and corrected them quickly. So did France."

Senator Chamberlain passed around among Senators photographs of wooden machine guns, rifles and heavy ordnance used at cantonments and asked Senators to study them carefully. "They are of some use," he explained "in training men, but if I had a boy training for the battle field I would not want him to have his training with nothing else than a wooden cannon."

"England and France," he said, "saw the mistake of having artillery men control the ordnance department. 'You must go to men who have done these things to get results,' he said, 'and Congress should face this without fear of any man but due regard for the distinguished commander in chief.'"

TWO THOUSAND WILL PAY INCOME TAX HERE

Agent Ralph Snyder Takes Calculation Regarding Marion County.

At least 2,000 people residing in Marion county are subject to the income tax according to the calculation which George M. Ralph Snyder, of Fairmont, income tax agent, made today. He states that 200 or more persons have called on him for assistance to make out their blanks, but the percentage is not especially large considering the number subject to the tax. Mr. Ralph Snyder's calculation includes single men, married men and foreigners.

Next week Mr. Ralph Snyder will devote his efforts to the country folks. On Monday and Tuesday he will be in Mannington; on Wednesday at Glover's Gap, and on Thursday at Boothsville. After that he will go to Monongalia county.

Mr. Ralph Snyder said today that there seems to be a tendency among many persons to attempt to make out their own blanks. He urges all those not understanding the subject fully to consult with him at the county court room, where he will be found on Friday and Saturday. If people turn their blanks in to the government incorrectly they will be sent back and as a result much unnecessary work will be involved.

Impurities Found In Candy for Navy

(By Associated Press)

FASHINGTON Jan. 24.—Discovery of impurities in candy supplied to canteens of navy ships caused the issue of an order suspending the sale of candy to the men and also the taking of additional supplies pending an investigation.

Navy department officials were careful not to say what the impurities were, but the announcement of the order immediately caused recurrence of the report that powdered glass had been discovered.

There was no confirmation for this and no cases of sickness from eating the candy have been reported.

TRIUNE.

We are very sorry to report the death angel has entered the home of Nelson Rabe and taken his son Amos away. HUN ATROCITIES AS THEY ACTUALLY ARE Hillis Lecture Saturday Evening Will Tell the Whole Brutal Story.

The public will have an opportunity Saturday evening at the Grand Opera House to hear Dr. Newell Dwight Hillis, successor of Henry Ward Beecher, and one of the most powerful orators, preachers and lecturers in the United States tell the thrilling story of his experiences on the six hundred miles of battle-front from the Dutch Coast to the Swiss Border. Dr. Hillis has recently returned from a tour of investigation, where he was the special guest of the British, French and Belgian Governments, to study conditions as they really exist and to secure data for our Government for the new Liberty Loan Drive. On account of his special mission he was permitted, under official escort, to get nearer to the actual seat of hostilities than anyone else on a like mission. He spent many sleepless days and nights in the trenches with high shells bursting over his head all the time and unable to sleep on account of the constant roar of the cannon. He covered practically the entire devastated regions of Belgium, Northern France and Alsace Lorraine.

Dr. Hillis had exceptional opportunities to see the results of Hun atrocities in Belgium and France, and he gives details of cruelties practiced upon wounded soldiers, inefficient civilians, women and children that should convince even the most obtuse pacifist that the United States is fighting for humanity against a foe that has openly disregarded all laws of humanity, mercy and international warfare. Dr. Hillis calls his graphic illustrated lecture "German Atrocities," their nature and philosophy. He brought back with him over six hundred actual photographs of murders, arson, rape and wanton destruction of human life and property that seem almost beyond the compass of the human mind to conceive. These pictures taken on the fighting front serve to illustrate many of the incidents of his dramatic, vital interesting story.

Many Miners Killed In New Brunswick

(By Associated Press)

HALIFAX, Jan. 24.—Rescue crews in alternating shifts today searched the lower regions of the Allan shafts of the Acadia coal companies at Stelleron for possible survivors of the violent explosion last night.

There was scant hope they would be found alive. At an early hour today revision figures by mine officials show there were 98 men in the mines at the time of the explosion of whom nine escaped. Eleven bodies have been recovered and 78 are still to be accounted for.
